Lindsay’s practice focuses on trademark, trade dress, copyright, right of publicity, and art market litigation, prosecution, and transactions. She represents and counsels clients ranging from Fortune 10 companies to individuals and family businesses across a wide array of industries, including: fashion, beauty & retail; art, media, publishing, music & entertainment; food, alcoholic beverage & health; architecture, interior design & real estate; and technology, among others.

Litigation

Lindsay represents clients in connection with trademark, copyright, and design patent infringement, trademark dilution, defamation, breach of contract, and other related claims in federal and state court, as well as issues of trademark and copyright registrability at the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and Copyright Office Review Board. She also works closely with foreign counsel to oversee her clients’ foreign disputes and to coordinate claims and defenses when those disputes span around the world.

- Lead counsel for Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. in defense of US and foreign law trademark infringement claims in connection with reference to a co-financing partner’s name in film credits. Victories included obtaining dismissal of state and foreign law claims due to failure to state a claim and on jurisdictional grounds. Rat Pack Filmproduktion GMBH v. RatPac Ent., LLC, No. 2:23-CV-04790-MEMF (ASX), 2024 WL 4452483 (C.D. Cal. Feb. 15, 2024).
- Successfully represented the Alexander Wang fashion house and designer Alexander Wang in defense of copyright infringement claims, winning at the motion to dismiss stage before the district court, and, after oral argument, obtaining affirmance from the Ninth Circuit. Jangle Vision, LLC v. Alexander Wang Inc. et al., No. 2:21-cv-09964, Dkt. 43 (June 3, 2022), aff’d, No. 22-55642, 2023 WL 7042518 (9th Cir. Oct. 26, 2023) (argued).
- Currently representing Fossil Group, Inc. and Michael Kors, L.L.C. in trademark infringement and counterfeiting claims against an ecommerce seller. Victories to date include: (i) obtaining early disposal of tortious interference, declaratory judgment, and unfair competition counterclaims; (ii) winning summary judgment on seller’s defamation counterclaim; (iii) successfully excluding seller’s expert under Daubert and FRE 702. Fossil Grp., Inc. v. Angel Seller LLC, No. 20-CV-2441 (WFK) (TAM), 2021 WL 5409605 (E.D.N.Y. Aug. 27, 2021), report and recommendation adopted, 2021 WL 4520030 (E.D.N.Y. Oct. 4, 2021); Dkt. 375 (Jan. 8, 2024); 2025 WL 1031062 (E.D.N.Y. Apr. 7, 2025).

- Represented technology and entertainment company in defense of copyright infringement claims based on alleged digital distribution (streaming, rental, and sales) of the films Austin Powers, After the Rain, Commander Hamilton, and Drop Dead Gorgeous. Obtained early dismissal of the contributory, vicarious, and foreign law copyright infringement claims. Hartmann v. Amazon.com, Inc., No. 20 CIV. 4928 (PAE), 2021 WL 3683510 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 19, 2021).
- Key team member in the four-year long defense of athleisure brand RBX Active in a bet-the-company litigation brought by two well-known global athletic brands. Achieved numerous discovery victories, including: (i) successfully piercing privilege under the crime-fraud exception based on a finding of trademark fraud on the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, adidas America, Inc. v. TRB Acquisitions LLC, No. 3:15-CV-2113-SI, 2018 WL 4600291 (D. Or. Sept. 25, 2018); and (ii) obtaining court orders waiving attorney client privilege and work product under Federal Rule of Evidence 612 due to 30(b)(6) witnesses' review of privileged documents to prepare for depositions, 324 F.R.D. 389 (D. Or. 2017). These evidentiary opinions are now cited in trademark treatises in connection with teaching best practices.
- Represented influencer and gamer in connection with trademark infringement claims and counterclaims over use of the slogan STAY PEACHY.
- Represented media company BuzzFeed, Inc. in defense of copyright infringement and Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) claims on appeal at the Second Circuit.
- Represented wine and spirits company W.J. Deutsch & Sons Ltd. in a defense of trade dress infringement and dilution claims regarding whiskey bottles.
- Successfully asserted trademark infringement claims on behalf of renowned fashion college Fashion Institute of Design & Merchandising (FIDM) against competing school that was infringing on its federally registered and incontestable name; case settled favorably and infringing school rebranded.
- Advised global sportswear brand in successfully terminating a license agreement on favorable terms and without costly litigation during the height of the covid-19 pandemic.
- Served as trademark TTAB co-counsel and successfully defended a web services company against reverse confusion trademark infringement claims in the telecommunications space.

Prosecution and Counseling

In the prosecution space, Lindsay helps clients obtain trademark and copyright registrations and manages worldwide IP portfolios in an array of fields, including for one of the largest companies in the world. She also provides day-to-day counseling and advice on issues including trademark, copyright, moral rights, and right of publicity protection and enforceability, in addition to performing high-volume global trademark clearances for names, logos, and designs.

Transactions

In the transactional space, Lindsay has extensive experience drafting and negotiating a wide array of agreements across industries, including IP licenses, joint venture agreements, gallery representation and consignment agreements, advertising services agreements, book publishing agreements, releases, production agreements, non-disclosure agreements (NDAs), and settlement and co-existence agreements. She also advises artists, creative professionals, property owners, and real estate developers on the applicability of and compliance with the Visual Artists Rights Act (VARA), 17 U.S.C. § 106(a), including in connection with site-specific artwork.

Previous Work

Before joining ArentFox Schiff, Lindsay served as a Junior Law Clerk for the Honorable Jack B. Weinstein at the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York. Prior to law, she worked in the contemporary art world, managing high-value collections and advising artists, galleries, and nonprofit organizations.
