Jeffrey represents employers in all aspects of labor & employment litigation matters, including wrongful termination, harassment, discrimination, retaliation, and wage-and-hour claims. Jeffrey also represents corporate clients in complex wage and hour class, collective, and representative actions. He litigates employment disputes before administrative agencies, arbitrators, and in court.

Jeffrey serves as a trusted advisor to his clients, providing experienced advice and counseling on employment law issues, including hiring, performance management, wage and hour compliance, navigating leaves of absence and the reasonable accommodation process, and employee separations. He also drafts employee handbooks, employment agreements, and severance agreements.

Jeffrey is also an experienced health care advisor and litigator. He regularly represents hospitals, medical staffs, medical foundations, and ambulatory surgery centers. He focuses his health care work on health care and medical staff peer review hearings, resident discipline and hearings, and complicated compliance issues.
